PREFACE TO THE SECOND EDITION.

SINCE the first Edition of this book was published in 1889 Dr Julian has brought out his Dictionary of Hymnology. I have been indebted to it and to the Rev. J. Mearns in several instances for alterations and corrections. I am also grateful to many friends for their suggestions and help in the revision, and in correcting the press.

A Book is still wanted that shall point out the really great hymns of the Eastern Churches, and, treating them as God's gift, should endeavour to induce the Churchmen of England to look upon them not so much as the productions of the respective writers as the heritage of The Catholic Church which The Holy Spirit has bestowed upon Her.

In the public services of the Church, Church persons need Church hymns. The Head of The Church imparts to His members divine truth. There is still a living power in His Church. He is ever present, and His Holy Spirit is ever with His Church.

It is therefore to be hoped that when our Church of England obtains her "Book of Common Praise," all her hymns will be the production of members of

THE HOLY CATHOLIC, APOSTOLIC, and ORTHODOX CHURCH of Christ.

Several persons have suggested that the Eucharistic hymns of the Eastern Liturgies and Western Missals should be arranged in a list, so that they might be sung in our Office of The Holy Communion rather than the unauthorised hymns which are now so frequently used. In any future authorised Hymnal of the Church of England it is hoped that many such may be given to us. Those now in H. A. & M. are very few.

In regard to the authorship of hymns it is well to remember that the best are not merely the utterances of certain chance individuals. The thought expressed in them is usually that of The Church Catholic, or of a phase of thought then pervading some portion of the Church. In attributing, then, this or that hymn to this or that person we should regard him as the utterer of the mind of his Church rather than as himself the author.

Without implicitly accepting the tradition that Charlemagne was the author of the grand Veni Creator Spiritus we may well think that his master mind in a religious mood so impressed the great Churchmen of his age that one of them expressed in this form the longing that The Holy Spirit should inspire every thought and deed in Church and State.

If search is made for the Greek originals of "Art thou weary," H. 254, and of "Christian, dost thou see them," H. 91, in Office-books of the Greek and Russian Churches they may possibly be found.

If some Eastern Churchman would edit the Service-books of his Church, with names, dates, and references, and make it by omissions suitable for Western readers, Englishmen would be better able to appreciate the striking grandeur of the hymns and prayers of the Greek Church.

And were some English scholars to publish our Common Prayer-book in Ecclesiastical Greek, giving dates, references, and names of authors, shewing how much we are indebted to the Greek Prayer-book, they would enable us to realise more than we now do that our British and Irish Churches have a common heritage in the Greek Church ; and if such a volume were spread abroad among Easterns it would prove of service in making the doctrine, the ritual, and the origin of the Anglican Church better known and valued by members of the Greek Communion.

PREFACE TO THE FIRST EDITION.

THIS volume is printed, because none like it has lately been published, and many persons wish to possess the very words of the ancient hymns which were sung by their forefathers in the early British, Scottish, Celtic, Saxon, and Norman Churches of these islands. Every member of the great English Church¹ must be proud of his lineage, and look back with gratitude to God for the heritage bequeathed to him by eighteen Christian centuries, and for the treasures which his ancestors created for their own branch, or acquired from other branches of the Catholic Church. The present book gives the words of the hymns to which generation after generation of Englishmen have been accustomed in the constant worship of the Great Head of the Church. It contains also the modern foreign hymns which, composed in later times, have been translated and used by many congregations.

Had the Compilers of Hymns Ancient and Modern issued a second edition of the Rev. L. Coutier Biggs' work, the present Editor would not have attempted a task which others could have done much better. But having collected most of the original hymns, and finding that no one else was making English Churchmen acquainted with them, he offers this volume, with great diffidence, to those who are not possessed of the Service-books from whence they come. Many of the hymns are hidden in Liturgies, Missals, Breviaries, and costly collections. Why should not every town and village choir, man and boy, realise the truth that what is sung in church is part and portion of the great Past, which survives because the Church has authorised it, and because it is worthy to survive? Such a book may lead those who now know little of the origin of their Hymn- and Prayer-books to respect more fully the piety, the learning, and the holiness of their ancestors in the Middle Ages.

Instead of printing the Hebrew text of the PSALMS, the Editor has thought it better to give the Vulgate Latin, attributed to S. Jerome, with references to his more accurate version. When Sir H. Baker wrote "The King of love my Shepherd is," the thought was derived from "Dominus regit me"; and probably other translations in H. A. and M. owe as much to the English and Latin as to the Hebrew.

The GREEK hymns are taken from Venice editions of the Service-books of the HOLY EASTERN CHURCH. Archbishop Laud endeavoured to promote the study of these volumes at Oxford, and Bishop Hacket effected this at Cambridge, by presenting copies to their respective Universities. In the University Library at Cambridge there are also well-printed modern editions of these Greek Church Office-books, and a "PANTHEKTE" published at Athens. It is much to be desired that there should be in England editions of these, and of other Eastern Liturgies and Office-books printed in Eastern towns, in order that we may be enabled to compare the ancient text with that which for three hundred years has been issuing from the Italian press.

Readers of the Greek will recollect that the stopping of the hymns in the Office-books of the Greek Church is regulated by the music.

They will also notice that the originals of several of the hymns have not yet been discovered¹. And if they are inclined to complain that English Churchmen have been slow in their attempts to trace out the book or MSS. from which the translations were made, they will do well to bear in mind that practically Dr Neale introduced the Greek Church and her books to the notice of Englishmen; for though the leading Divines of the seventeenth century did their best, and in our own day Archdeacon Freeman shewed how much our Prayer-book owes to the Service-books of the Greek Church, yet even now few amongst us, ecclesiastics or laymen, know of these rich treasures, or have given due attention to their noble thoughts and stirring poetry.

Syria was the home and birthplace of the Psalms, the Canticles, and of all Christian poetry, yet the Compilers of H. A. & M. have inserted no hymns of the West or East Syriac Church, none of the Coptic or Armenian Churches, and none of the later Church of Russia.

In the LATIN HYMNS of the first fifteen centuries the text has, whenever possible, been taken from the Service-books of the English, Irish, and Scotch Churches, that is from the Sarum, Hereford, York, and Aberdeen Breviaries, and the Durham or Anglo-Saxon Hymnary. Readers will thus continually be reminded that what we are now singing in our churches are the same ancient hymns that our ancestors sang in Saxon and Norman days, often in the same buildings, or on the same spot, where their descendants are now praising God.

If any persons desire to teach their pupils the ancient plain song which was in use in former times, they will find assistance from the study of the tunes, and the remarks on them, in THE HYMNAL NOTED and in THE SARUM PSALTER and HYMNS edited by J. D. Chambers.

Hymn-writers are given in their chronological order. The Editor thought this better than an alphabetical arrangement, as readers are in consequence led to notice the different schools of writers as they successively arose within the Church; while the continuity of each Church is kept prominently before the mind by the list of great names following one another century by century. Persons may hereby be induced to look at the productions of their Church from an historic, rather than a personal, light, and to value a hymn not only because they like its words and tune but because it is, like an Irish tower or a Norman arch, a portion of a grand past. He who knows the hymns of S. Patrick and his friends, of S. Columba and his school, of Caedmon and King Alfred, of Bede and Alcuin, will be a more intelligent Churchman than one who has not made himself familiar with the past history and literature of these islands.

It will be seen that the chief hymns of the Parisian Breviary are of the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries; these first came into notice in England about fifty years ago, and, though historically interesting as being the last efforts of the Gallican Church to assert her independence against the domination of the Italian Church, perhaps more importance than they in themselves deserve has been assigned them.

The German, Italian, Danish, French, and Welsh hymns, and the English hymns written during the last three hundred years (the first lines of which are given), stand in a wholly different position to the older Greek and Latin hymns; they have no Ecclesiastical authority; they are here because the Compilers, wishing to offer a book to the English public which they thought its uninstructed taste would like, inserted them in their volume.

But assuredly all our present hymn-books must be regarded merely as pioneers preparing the way for the Anglo-Catholic Hymnal of the future, more representative, more stately, and more finely chosen than any we now possess.

A worthy Anglo-Catholic Hymnal, such an one as becomes the wide-spread Anglican Church, must be, as her Prayer-book is, the growth of years. The English nation has a foot in every land, and her Church looks back eighteen hundred years, and is looking onward to fresh conquests for her Lord and Head. She is linked with all nations, and her hymns should be the echo of all the ages, and should present the best from all her sister Churches. Herself a portion of the Catholic Church, she claims, as her heritage, the choicest of each and all the other portions of the Universal Church.

The high ideal which gained the approbation of the early Church, and which was continued and sanctioned during the Middle Ages, ought still to be maintained. There is a long line of ancestry, and we are beginning to know somewhat about it. We are more familiar than the Churchmen of the eighteenth century were with what belongs to us as Christians and as descendants of the Churchmen of former times.

Should not the Church ever give her best to her children? In the Middle Ages Latin hymns alone, thoughts and words which had sprung from Western minds, satisfied Anglicans; a little later Sternhold and Hopkins were sufficient; then Tate and Brady held sway; and the Wesleys and Cowper quickened our forefathers. Now we have a larger, but a limited, number of hymns, chosen at hap-hazard from a small portion of the Christian Church. It is to be hoped that a younger generation will enlarge the field of view, and know and sing hymns gathered from every branch of the Church Catholic.

The man who can re-people our old cathedrals and ecclesiastical buildings, and look back in imagination to the days of the Briton, the Saxon, and the Norman, has a thousand more ties to his Church than he who knows of nothing but to-day. He recalls, and it is his joy, that he is singing the same hymn that his ancestors for many generations have sung; and it stirs his blood and warms his heart as he remembers how the earnest, the true, the loyal, the gentle, and the penitent of periods long gone by have been aroused and comforted and upheld by the same truths and devotional strains. New hymns chosen by some compiler of to-day may possibly be good, but far better is the ring of the ancient triumphal praise which has been chosen by the Church, and is endeared by associations of past history.

The future hymnal of the Church of England will, we trust, be no work of chance compilers, but the authorised selection of the Church herself. It will include the chants and canons of many an Eastern Church. We need the Eastern hymns. When Christianity arose upon the ashes of the Jewish Church she formed her early praises of the Son of David after the model left by those holy men who regarded David as their Head. The first Service-books of the Syrian, the Coptic, the Armenian, and the Greek contain the primitive hymns; and these are the common possession of the whole Church.

It will, no doubt, contain also the great productions which the several branches of the Western Church have approved of and sanctioned, selected for modern use by the authorities of the Anglican Church.

The next source from which suitable hymns can be obtained is from the best writings of the great Churchmen of the various national Churches. Where the Liturgies fail to meet our needs, choose the noble historic hymns of each Church. We want to keep touch with the mighty dead; we have a claim upon all that is good throughout all the ages of all the whole Catholic Church. And there are jewels lying hid and still unknown which may yet be brought to light.

If thus, as is most fitting, we place first the ancient and mediæval hymns of the Universal Church: and second, those stirring utterances of the great and good to which the Church has not as yet given her imprimatur, the modern hymns of the last three centuries come last. These are very numerous, and it is difficult to select from among the multitude. In choosing from among these a guiding principle might be, that in the public services of our Church no production should be permitted but what issued from a Churchman's heart and head.

We want our taste altered and improved, and we need to have a higher standard set before us both in the matter and the artistic form of our hymns.

If readers of the present volume are led by it to notice some excellences in H. A. & M. they have not previously thought of they will also mark its defects. It has given the Church many ancient hymns; yet there are many gaps and deficiencies.

The work of the sixteenth century was to re-model the old Service-books into our present book of Common Prayer; the nineteenth century having prepared the way, it will be the glory of the twentieth century to widen the circle of our hymns and to bestow an ampler hymnal upon the great Pan-Anglican Church.

The Editor desires to thank most warmly those friends who have given him constant and valuable help; and to express here his gratitude for their kindness. He must ask his readers to be indulgent to his mistakes, which may be numerous owing to his inability to see.

He will be much obliged if those who notice errors would point them out to him, that they may be corrected, as the object of the book is to assist in procuring a more worthy and more perfect hymn-book in the future for the Church of England.

*Sancti, venite, Christi Corpus sumite*ⁿ.

Translated by Rev. J. M. NEALE, 1851.

No. 313. Draw nigh and take the Body of the Lord.

This Latin Hymn is from an ancient MS., which is now preserved at Milan, but formerly in the Monastery at Bangor in Ireland. It is dated 685 about. This Antiphonary is a genuine ancient service-book of the old Celtic Church, which escaped destruction by the heathen Saxons and Danes, and subsequently by the Church of Rome.

Sancti venite, Christi Corpus sumite,
Sanctum bibentes quo redempti sanguinem.

Salvati Christi corpore et sanguine,
A quo refecti laudes dicamus Deo.

Dator salutis, Christus Filius Dei,
Mundum servavit per crucem et sanguinem.

Pro universis immolatus Dominus,
Ipse sacerdos exstitit et hostia.

ⁿ Antiphonary of Bangor in Ulster. Daniel, i. Warren's Liturgy of Celtic Church, p. 188.

An Irish book of the 14th century speaks of a choir of angels in the church of S. Sechnall chanting this Hymn: "It was sung in the Irish Church while the people were communicating."

Lege præceptum immolari hostias,
Qua adumbrantur divina mysteria.

Lucis indultor et salvator omnium
Præclaram sanctis largitus est gratiam.

Accedant omnes pura mente creduli,
Sumant æternam salutis custodiam.

Sanctorum custos, rector quoque Dominus,
Vitam perennem largitur credentibus.

Cœlestem panem dat esurientibus,
De fonte vivo præbet sitientibus.

O quanta qualia

Quæ semper celebrat
Superna Curia ;
Quæ fessis requies,
Quæ merces fortibus,
Cum erit Omnia

Quis Rex, quæ curia,
Quale palatium,
Quæ pax, quæ requies,
Quod illud gaudium ?
Hujus participes
Exponant gloriæ,
Si quantum sentiunt
Possint exprimere.

Vere Jerusalem
Est illa civitas,
Cujus pax jugis est
Summa jucunditas,
Ubi non prævenit
Rem desiderium,
Nec desiderio
Minus est præmium.

Ibi molestiis
Finitis omnibus
Securi cantica
Sion cantabimus,

Et juges gratias
De donis gratiæ
Beata referet
Plebs Tibi, Domine!

Illic nec sabbato
Succedit sabbatum,
Perpes lætitia
Sabbatizantium,
Nec ineffabiles
Cessabunt jubili,
Quos decantabimus
Et nos et Angeli.

Nostrum est interim
Mentes erigere,
Et totis patriam

Et ad Jerusalem
A Babylonia
Post longa regredi

Salve caput cruentatum^s.

Translated by Rev. Sir H. BAKER.

No. III. O sacred Head, surrounded.

Salve caput cruentatum,
Totum spinis coronatum,
Conquassatum, vulneratum,
Arundine verberatum,
Facie sputis illita.

Salve, cujus dulcis vultus
Immutatus et incultus
Immutavit suum florem
Totus versus in pallorem,
Quem coeli tremit curia.
Omnis vigor atque viror
Hinc recessit, non admiror,
Mors apparet in aspectu,
Totus pendens in defectu
Attritus ægra macie.

There is a doubt about the authorship of this hymn.

Sic affectus, sic despectus,
Propter me sic interfectus,
Peccatori tam indigno
Cum amoris in Te signo
Appare clara facie.

In hac Tua passione
Me agnosce, Pastor bone!
Cujus sumpsi mel ex ore,
Haustum lactis ex dulcore,
Præ omnibus deliciis,

Non me reum asperneris,
Nec indignum dedigneris,
Morte Tibi jam vicina
Tuum caput hic inclina,
In meis pausa brachiis.

Tuæ sanctæ Passioni
Me gauderem interponi,
In hac cruce Tecum mori
Præsta crucis amatori,
Sub cruce Tua moriar:

Morti Tuæ jam amaræ
Grates ago, Jesu care;
Qui es clemens, pie Deus,
Fac quod petit Tuus reus,
Ut absque Te non finiar.

Dum me mori est necesse,
Noli mihi tunc deesse;
In tremenda mortis hora
Veni Jesu! absque mora
Tuere me et libera.

Cum me jubes emigrare
Jesu! care! tunc appare,
O amator amplexende
Temet ipsum tunc ostende
In cruce salutifera.

Hic breve vivitur.

Translated by Rev. J. M. NEALE, 1858.

No. 225. Brief life is here our portion.

Hic breve vivitur, hic breve plangitur, hic breve fletur;
Non breve vivere, non breve plangere, retribuetur.

O retributio! stat brevis actio, vita perennis;
O retributio! cœlica mansio stat lue plenis.

Sunt modo prælia, postmodo præmia. Qualia? Plena;
Plena refectio, nullaque passio, nullaque pœna.

Spe modo vivitur, et Sion angitur a Babylone^y,
Nunc tribulatio; tunc recreatio, sceptræ, coronæ.

Qui modo creditur, Ipse videbitur, atque scietur;
Ipse videntibus atque scientibus attribuetur.

Mane videbitur, umbra fugabitur, ordo patebit;
Mane nitens erit, et bona qui gerit, ille nitebit;

Pars mea, Rex meus, in proprio Deus ipse decore
Visus amabitur, atque videbitur Auctor in ore.

O bona patria, num tua gaudia teque videbo?

O bona patria, num tua præmia plena tenebo?

Dic mihi, flagito; verbaque reddito, dicque, Videbis;
Spem solidam gero, remne tenens ero? dic, Retinebis.

OFFICE BOOKS FOR HOLY COMMUNION.

LARGE portions of our present "Order for Holy Communion" are derived from Eastern Liturgies, especially from the "Euchologion" of the Greek Church. This contains four Hymns, the "Trisagion" ("O Lord most Holy, O Lord most Mighty" etc. retained in our Burial Service); the "Cherubic"; the "Triumphal" or Ter-Sanctus ("Holy, Holy, Holy, Lord God of Hosts"); and the "Angelic Hymn," or "Gloria in excelsis" ("Glory be to God on high"). We retain the last two in our service.

In the early British and Irish Church, the Brito-Celtic Church, the Liturgies used were derived from the East, Ephesus: as were those of Early France and Spain, the Gallican and Mozarabic. These were quite independent of Rome.

When, in 597 A.D., S. Augustine came to convert the heathen Anglo-Saxons, he brought the Roman Liturgy. By degrees this form was altered by the more ancient British Liturgies, and began to prevail in England, Scotland, and Ireland, different parts of these countries having their peculiar "Uses." The chief office books then were,

The Sacramentary, or the portions said by the celebrating Priest.

The Evangelarium, containing the Gospels.

The Epistolarium, or Book of the Epistles.

The Graduale, the musical portion sung by the choir, or joined in by the congregation.

These were collected about the eleventh century into a single volume, which our ancestors called a "Missal." Both here and abroad most provinces and many dioceses had their own Missal. Thus in England there grew up the Sarum, the Hereford, the York, the Bangor, and other Missals.

In France there were many old Gallican Liturgies, modified by the Roman, which was at last enforced upon the Gallican Church.

In Germany there were the "Mentz," the "Magdeburg," and others.

In Italy, the Roman, and others.

The EUCHOLOGION.—The Order for Holy Communion of the Anglican Church retains from this the Hymns Ἅγιος, ἁγιος, ἅγιος, Κύριος Σαβαώθ and Δόξα ἐν ὑψίστοις Θεῷ. H. A. and M. has no hymn from the Liturgy of S. John Chrysostom, but Hymn 491 is from the ἀκολουθία τοῦ μεγάλου σχήματος, or Service on investing a Monk with the full monkish dress.

ANTIPHONARIUM.—The Antiphonary of Bangor in Ireland has a short Anthem, like one of our Anglican offertory sentences. The MS. of this is of the seventh century, and is now at Milan. It contains hymns and portions of the day and night hours, amongst others the "Sancti venite," sung when the Priests communicate. Hymn 313.

It is desirable that more Liturgical hymns from Eastern Offices should be translated, and made known to English Churchmen.

WESTERN LITURGIES.

The Salisbury Holy Communion Office, or Sarum Missal, has Hymns 98, 131, 156, 206, 310, 398.

The Hereford Missal, Hymns 97, 98, 131, 156, 310.

The York Missal, Hymns 131, 156, 310, 434.

The Paris Missal, Hymns 49, 64, 97, 98, 117, 130, 131, 156, 310, 398, 434, 618, 621.

The Roman Missal, Hymns 97, 98, 117, 156, 157, 310, 312, 398.

The Mentz Missal, Hymn 440.

The Missal of Xanten, near Dusseldorf, Hymn 159.

OTHER OFFICE BOOKS.

THE HOLY EASTERN, or GREEK, CHURCH has

The HOROLOGION, containing the Services for Midnight, Dawn, and the First Hour; for the Third, the Sixth, and the Ninth Hours ; for Evensong and After-Supper. This book arose from the worship of the Primitive Christians, and was probably modelled on parts of the Jewish Services. Our daily Morning and Evening Service was largely taken from this. There are many fine hymns, those in H. A. and M. are only 18, 21, 474, 490.

The TRIODION, or offices from the beginning of the year till Easter Eve, Hymns 91, 491.

The PENTEKOSTARION, or services from Easter to All Saints, Hymns 132, 133.

The PARAKLETIKE, containing the Sunday and Week-day Troparia, Hymns 254, 285, 423, 491.

The OKTOECHUS, or the Sunday Troparia only, Hymn 254.

The MENAION, in twelve volumes, one for each month, commemorating the Saints, Hymns 60, 224, 439, 441, 460.

The Compilers have strangely neglected the numerous hymns of the Coptic, the Syrian, the Nestorian, the Armenian, the Abyssinian, and the Russian Churches.

THE BRITISH AND CELTIC CHURCH.—The BRITO-CELTIC Church had many hymns ; S. Patrick's own Hymn, the "Lorica" ; those about him by S. Fiacc and S. Sechnall ; S.

Finnan's Hymn, Colman's Hymn, S. Columba's, S. Hilary's, and others. But the Compilers have inserted none of these Hymns of our early forefathers.

On reaching Saxon times we find that the Italian books brought into the South of England were modified by the Office books of the British Church.

Thus different "Uses" prevailed in the various provinces of Great Britain and Ireland till the eleventh or twelfth century, when the Office books of the Anglican Church became more settled.

There are the following hymns in

THE ANGLO-SAXON, or DURHAM HYMNARY.
—This is printed by the Surtees Society from a MS. at Durham, Volume 23. The hymns are in Latin, with an Anglo-Saxon translation. 1, 2, 9, 10, 11, 14, 15, 38, 45, 46, 47, 55, 57, 75, 82, 85, 87, 89, 90, 95, 96, 97, 125, 126, 128, 129, 141, 144, 150, 152, 153, 157, 158, 296, 347, 396, 430, 442, 444, 449, 452, 455, 483, 486, 508, 509, 616.

Our Anglican ancestors had their hymns with their prayers in their "Breviaries," or daily Morning and Evening Prayer-books. In what some people call "the dark ages," our Church thus provided her English, Scotch, and Irish children with many bright hymns to sing.

In Great Britain and Ireland there were the Sarum, Hereford, York, and Aberdeen Breviaries.

In France, the Paris, the Le Mans, the Cluniac, the Meaux Breviaries.

In Spain, the Mozarabic.

In Germany, the Stuttgart, the Magdeburg.

In Belgium, the Liége.

In Italy, the Roman, and others.

THE SARUM BREVIARY.—The Liturgy of Ephesus, possibly of S. John, coming at an early date from its original home in Asia Minor, was the source of the Liturgies and Offices used in France, Spain, and England.

In Spain it became the Mozarabic ; in France the Gallican ; in England the British. But S. Augustine of Canterbury brought the Italian Service books into England when he founded the Anglo-Saxon Church. In 1085 S. Osmund, Bishop of Salisbury, promoted uniformity by compiling the Sarum Breviary. This was till the sixteenth century the "Custom" and model ritual book of the South of England. At the Reformation our Prayer-book was largely formed from it and the Eastern Office books.

The Romanists, or Papal party as distinguished from the Anglicans, were bidden by the Pope to use the Roman Liturgy after the establishment of the Anglo-Roman schism by Pope Pius V. in 1570.

THE SALISBURY PRAYER-BOOK, or SARUM BREVIARY, contains Hymns 1, 2, 9, 10, 11, 12, 14, 15, 16, 38, 45, 46, 47, 55, 57, 63, 75, 85, 86, 87, 88, 89, 90, 95, 96, 97, 105, 125, 126, parts 1, 2, and 3, 128, 141, 144, 145, 150, 152, 153, 157, 163, 177, 178, parts 1, 2, and 3, 239, 309, parts 1 and 2, 311, parts 1 and 2, 347, 396, 442, 449, 452, 455, 483, 486, 508, 509, 616.

THE HEREFORD BREVIARY contains some Hymns not in the Sarum. 1, 2, 9, 10, 11, 12, 14, 15, 16, 38, 45, 46, 47, 55, 56, 57, 63, 75, 85, 86, 87, 88, 89, 90, 95, 96, 97, 125, 126, 131, 141, 144, 150, 152, 153, 156, 157, 177, 178, 239, 309, 310, 311, 347, 396, 430, 442, 444, 449, 452, 455, 483, 486, 509, 616.

THE YORK BREVIARY, Hymns 1, 2, 9, 10, 11, 12, 14, 15, 16, 38, 45, 46, 47, 55, 56, 57, 63, 75, 85, 86, 87, 89, 90, 95, 96, 97, 125, 126, 128, 141, 144, 145, 150, 152, 153, 157, 163, 239, 309, 311, 347, 396, 430, 442, 444, 449, 452, 455, 459, 483, 486, 508, 509, 616.

THE ABERDEEN BREVIARY, Hymns 1, 2, 9, 10, 11, 14, 15, 38, 45, 46, 47, 55, 57, 63, 75, 85, 86, 87, 88, 89, 90, 95, 96, 97, 125, 126, parts 1, 2, and 3, 128, 141, 144, 145, 150, 152, 153, 157, 177, 178, 309, 311, 347, 396, 442, 449, 452, 455, 483, 486, 508, 509, 616.

THE CAHORS BREVIARY, Hymn 492.

THE AMIENS BREVIARY, Hymn 536.

THE LE MANS BREVIARY, Hymn 34.

THE CLUNIAK BREVIARY, Hymn 66.

THE PARISIAN BREVIARY.—As the Hymns from this in H. A. and M. are chiefly modern, they are given under the eighteenth century hymns, page 216.

THE MEAUX BREVIARY, Hymn 72.

THE MOZARABIC BREVIARY.—This is the old national service book of the Spanish Church, derived from Ephesus and the East. It is, as its name implies, the Prayer and Office book of the Christians who lived among the Arabians or Moors. In 1070 the Roman "Use" was forced upon Spain; but the Mozarabic Liturgy lingered in use in a few localities, and to prevent its entire extinction, Cardinal Ximenes founded a Chapel at Toledo in the sixteenth century for the maintenance of the ancient worship, and reprinted the Mozarabic Service books. The Mozarabic Liturgy is still in use in the Chapel at Toledo, and in a few other churches in Spain. Hymns 104, 135, 296, 602.

THE STUTTGART BREVIARY, Hymns 86, 295.

THE MAGDEBURG BREVIARY, Hymns 82, 104.

THE LIÉGE BREVIARY, Hymn 179.

THE ROMAN BREVIARY.—This grew up gradually in Italy. In 1070 Pope Gregory VII. rearranged it. In 1556 under Pope Pius V. it was again reordered and reformed. In 1568 the Pope commended its use to the clergy of the Roman Church all over the world. In 1602 Clement VIII. again reformed it. In 1631 Urban VIII. had much of the language and metres revised. These several changes gave rise to the saying, "Accessit Latinitas, Recessit Pietas"; "Reformed, Deformed"; as may be seen by comparing the old unreformed hymns with the modern reformed Roman Breviary hymns, and the Breviarium S.O.P., Sancti Ordinis Predicatorum, with the amended hymns. Hymns 38, 85, 97, 100, 101, 102, 127, 129, 180, 232, 396, 457, 459, 616.

The Church of Bohemia produced in the middle ages several hymns in the Bohemian language; the Authors are not known, but in 1531 M. Weiss translated into the German language Hymn 136.

O Deus! ego amo Te^x.

Translated by Rev. E. CASWALL, 1849.

No. 106. My God, I love Thee ; not because.

O Deus! ego amo Te ;
Nec amo Te ut salves me,
Aut quia non amantes Te
Æterno punis igne.

Tu, Tu, mi Jesu! totum me
Amplexus es in cruce,
Tulisti clavos, lanceam,
Multamque ignominiam,

Innumeros dolores,
Sudores, et angores,
Ac mortem, et hæc propter me,
Ac pro me peccatore.

Cur igitur non amem Te,
O Jesu amantissime?
Non ut in cœlo salves me,
Aut ne æternum damnes me;

Nec præmii ullius spe,
Sed sicut Tu amasti me,
Sic amo et amabo Te,

Solum quia Rex meus es,
Et solum quia Deus es.

^a Evening. Knapp; Bunsen.

Welcher Tag und Nacht lässt werden,
Und die Sonn' uns scheinen heisst,
Und mit starker Hand die Welt
Und was drinnen ist, erhält.

Gott, ich danke Dir von Herzen,
Dass Du mich in dieser Nacht
Vor Gefahr, Angst, Noth, und Schmerzen
Hast behütet und bewacht,
Dass des bösen Feindes List
Mein nicht mächtig worden ist.

Lass die Nacht auch meiner Sünden,
Herr, wie diese Nacht, vergehn;
O Herr Jesu, lass mich finden
Deine Wunden offen stehn,
Da alleine Hülff' und Rath
Ist für meine Missethat!

Deinen Engel zu mir sende,
Der des bösen Feindes Macht,
List und Anschlag von mir wende,
Und mich halt' in guter Acht;

Trage nach dem Himmel zu.

No. 107. Glory be to Jesus.

Viva ! Viva ! Gesù ! che per mio bene
 Tutto il sangue versò dalle sue vene.
 Il sangue di Gesù fu la mia vita ;
 Benedetta la Sua bontà infinita.
 Questo sangue in eterno sia lodato,
 Che dall' inferno il mondo ha riscattato.
 D' Abele il sangue gridava vendetta,
 Quel di Gesù per noi perdono aspetta.
 Se di tal sangue asperso è il nostro cuore,
 Fugge il ministro del divin furore.
 Se di Gesù si esalta il divin sangue,
 Tripudia il ciel, trema l' abisso e langue.
 Diciamo dunque insiem con energia
 Al sangue di Gesù gloria si dia.

THE PARIS BREVIARY.— The Eastern Church sent Christianity to Gaul, and provided the converts with her Prayer-book and ritual. The Gallican "Uses" differed in slight points from one another in the various provinces, but all held their own as they best could against Rome, till at last she crushed them into insignificance, and enforced the Roman rite.

In the Paris Breviary was displayed one of the last efforts of the National Gallican Church to maintain her independence. The chief hymns from this book found in H. A. and M. were written in the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries, and are therefore modern. The Edition of 1736 gives the initials of the Authors.

Hymns 13, 33, 39, 40, 41, 42, 43, 44, 48, 50, 54, 58, 64, 65, 68, 70, 71, 77, 78, 83, 84, 87, 96, 103, 146, 151, 175, 190, 208, 262, 273, 309, 395, 405, 407, 414, 422, 429, 431, 432, 433, 443, 447, 451, 458, 479, 487, 489, 496.

Wer sind die in reiner Seide,
Welche ist Gerechtigkeit,
Angethan mit weissem Kleide,
Das bestäubet keine Zeit
Und veraltet nimmermehr?—
Wo sind diese kommen her?—

Es sind die, so wohl gerungen
Für des grossen Gottes Ehr',
Haben Welt und Tod bezwungen,
Folgend nicht dem Sünderheer,
Die erlanget in dem Krieg
Durch des Herren Arm den Sieg.

Es sind Zweige eines Stammes,
Der uns Huld und Heil gebracht,
Haben in dem Blut des Lammes
Ihre Kleider hell gemacht;
Nun sind sie erlöst vom Leid
Und geschmückt in Ehrenkleid.

Es sind die, so viel erlitten;
Trübsal, Schmerzen, Angst, und Noth;
Im Gebet auch oft gestritten
Mit dem hochbelobten Gott;
Nun hat dieser Kampf ein End,
Gott hat all ihr Leid gewendt.

Es sind die, so stets erschienen
Hier als Priester vor dem Herrn,
Tag und Nacht bereit, zu dienen,
Leib und Seel' geopfert gern;
Nunmehr stehn sie All' herum
Vor dem Stuhl im Heiligthum.

*Was Gott thut, das ist wohlgethan!*¹

Translated by Rev. Sir H. BAKER.

No. 389. What our Father does is well.

Was Gott thut, das ist wohlgethan!

So denken Gottes Kinder;

Wer auch nicht reichlich ernten kann

Den liebt Er doch nicht minder,

Er zieht das Herz

Doch himmelwärts,

Ogleich wir oft auf Erden

Beim Mangel traurig werden.

Was Gott thut, das ist wohlgethan!

Wer darf Sein Walten richten,

Wenn Er, noch eh' man ernten kann,

Den Segen will vernichten?

Weil Er allein

Der Schatz will sein,

So nimmt Er andre Güter

Und bessert die Gemüther.

Was Gott thut, das ist wohlgethan!

Das Feld mag traurig stehen;

Und wollen Ihn erhöhen;

Uns Lebenskraft,
Es nennt uns Gottes Erben,
Wie können wir verderben?

Was Gott thut, das ist wohlgethan!

Ist gleich bei uns kein Kanaan,
Wo Milch und Honig fliessen;
So wird doch Gott
Uns unser Brodt
Zur Nothdurft stets bescheren
Wenn wir Ihn gläubig ehren.

Ist da, wo ihr Herz und Schatz,

Wo ihr Heiland, Jesus Christ,

Und ihr Leben hier schon ist.

^p Burial of the Dead : Knapp's Liederschatz. Bishop Gregor is said to have altered this hymn.

Eins geht da, das Andre dort,
 In die ew'ge Heimath fort;
 Und der Herr, in Seinem Licht,
 Fraget uns darüber nicht.

Hätt' Er uns darob gefragt;
 Ach, was hätten wir gesagt?
 Heiss mit Thränen bäten wir;
 "Lass die theure Seele hier!"

Doch der Herr kann nichts versehn;
 Und wenn es nun doch geschehn,
 Haben wir sonst nichts zu thun,
 Als zu schweigen und zu ruhn.

Manches Herz, das nicht mehr da,
 Geht uns freilich innig nah;
 Doch, O Liebe, wir sind Dein,
 Und Du willst uns Alles sein!

D'une Vierge chaste et féconde,
Un enfant divin nous est né,
Aujourd'hui le Sauveur du monde,
Le Fils de Dieu, nous est donné.

En Lui la suprême puissance
Se trouve avec l'infirmité ;
Une éternelle et pure essence
S'unit à notre humanité ;
Dans la bassesse on Le voit naître,
Sous la forme de serviteur,
Mais c'est alors qu'il fait paraître
Plusieurs rayons de Sa grandeur.

Il n'a pour palais qu'une étable,
Et qu'une crèche pour berceau ;
Mais cet enfant incomparable
Fait briller un astre nouveau.
À sa naissance les saints Anges
Font ouïr leur voix dans ces lieux ;
Ils disent, chantant Ses louanges,
"Gloire soit à Dieu dans les cieux !"

Mortels ! le Maître du tonnerre
Contre vous n'est plus irrité ;
La paix va régner sur la terre,
Dieu pour vous est plein de bonté.
Joignons notre sainte harmonie
À leurs concerts mélodieux ;
Louons le Prince de la vie,
Qui vient se montrer à nos yeux.

Approchons-nous, avec les Mages,
Du berceau de notre Sauveur ;
Rendons-Lui nos justes hommages,
Et présentons-Lui notre cœur.
L'or et l'encens de l'Arabie
Plaisent bien moins à notre Roi,
Que la sainteté de la vie,
Qu'un cœur plein d'amour et de foi.

Gott ist gegenwärtig!^u

Translated by J. WESLEY, 1739.

No. 526. Lo ! God is here ! let us adore.

Gott ist gegenwärtig ! lasset uns anbeten
Und in Ehrfurcht vor Ihn treten !
Gott ist in der Mitte : Alles in uns schweige
Und sich innigst vor Ihm beuge !
Wer Ihn kennt,
Wer Ihn nennt,
Schlag' die Augen nieder ;
Gebt das Herz Ihm wieder !

Gott ist gegenwärtig, dem die Cherubinen
Tag und Nacht gebücket dienen ;
Heilig, Heilig, Heilig singen Ihm zur Ehre
Aller Engel hohe Chöre.

^u Public Worship, Sundays after Easter : Knapp's Liederschatz.

 Unsre Stimm',
 Wenn auch wir geringen
 Unsre Opfer bringen!

† Wir entsagen willig allen Eitelkeiten,
 Aller Erdenlust und Freuden.

Da liegt unser Wille, Seele, Leib, und Leben,
 Dir zum Eigenthum ergeben;
 Du allein sollst es seyn,
 Sollst es seyn,

Unser Gott und Herre;
 Dir gebührt die Ehre!

Majestätisch Wesen! Möcht' ich recht Dich preisen
 Und im Geist Dir Dienst erweisen!
 Möcht' ich, wie die Engel, immer vor Dir stehen
 Und Dich gegenwärtig sehen!

Lass mich Dir
 Für und für
 Trachten zu gefallen,
 Liebster Gott, in Allen!

^w For a Retreat: from Tersteegen's Geistliches Blumengärtlein.

Ich bin nicht stille, wie ich soll ;
Ich fühl, es ist dem Geist nicht wohl,
Weil er in Dir nicht stehet.

Ist etwas, das ich neben Dir
In aller Welt sollt lieben;
Ach nimm es hin, bis nichts in mir,
Als Du, seist überblieben :
Ich weiss, ich muss von Allem los,
Eh' ich in Deinem Friedensschoss
Kann bleiben ohne Wanken.

Entdeck', mein Gott, die Eigenheit,
Die Dir stets wiederstrebet ;
Und was noch von Unlauterkeit
In meiner Seele lebet ;
Soll ich erreichen Deine Ruh',
So muss mein Aug' geradezu
Dich meinen und ansehen.

Indessen zeuch zu aller Stund,
Lass mich zu Dir mich kehren ;
Herr, rede Du im Seelengrund,
Da lass mich stets Dich hören !
Ach, setze mit Maria mich
Zu Deinen Füßen inniglich,
Dies Eins will ich erwählen.

OLIVERS, Thomas. 1725—1799. A Wesleyan Preacher.

No. 601. The God of Abraham praise.

Olivers is said to have taken this hymn from the Hebrew, from the "Yigdal" of Maimonides. This "Song of Praise" is to be found in a Service-Book used by the Polish and German Jews. Maimonides, 1135—1204, a philosophical Talmudist, was born at Cordova, and fled to Cairo, where he became Physician to the Sultan.

The first words of the "Yigdal" :—

יְגִדַּל אֱלֹהִים חַי וְיִשְׁתַּבַּח בְּמִצָּא

וְאֵין עֵת אֶל מְצִיאֹתוֹ :

"Great be the Living God, and He is to be praised ; He existeth, and there is no time to

His Existence," may have given a suggestion to Olivers; the remaining lines of either hymn have not much in common.

Maimonides drew up the thirteen Articles of Belief, but it is not known whether he, or another, turned them into the verse of the "Yigdal."

Beim frühen Morgenlicht^d.

No. 303. When morning gilds the skies. 1854.

Beim frühen Morgenlicht
Erwacht mein Herz und spricht,
Gelobt sei Jesus Christus !
So sing ich früh und spät,
Bei Arbeit und Gebet,
Gelobt sei Jesus Christus !

Was tönt der schönste Klang,
Der lieblichste Gesang ?
Gelobt sei Jesus Christus !
In Gottes heil'gem Haus
Sprech ich vor allem aus,
Gelobt sei Jesus Christus !

Ihm, meinem höchsten Gut,
Sing ich in Liebesgluth,
Gelobt sei Jesus Christus !
Bei jedem Anbeginn
Ruf ich mit Herz und Sinn,
Gelobt sei Jesus Christus !

^d This hymn is taken from a collection of Fränkische Lieder made by Baron Von Ditzfurth, a Lutheran. He learnt this in Bavaria : it is probably a Lutheran Hymn of the eighteenth century. See also Warzburg Gesangbuch, 1828.

Mein Herz, das schlummernd wacht,
Seufzt in der tiefsten Nacht,

Gelobt sei Jesus Christus !

Ja, meine Seele spricht,
Wenn auch das Herz schon bricht,
Gelobt sei Jesus Christus !

Nie wecket Ueberdruß
Der wunderschöne Gruss,

Gelobt sei Jesus Christus !
Wenn Traurigkeit mich plagt,
So ruf ich unverzagt,
Gelobt sei Jesus Christus !

Die Finsterniß wird Licht,
Wenn fromm die Zunge spricht,
Gelobt sei Jesus Christus !
In Not und bitterm Schmerz
Sing ich mit Mund und Herz,
Gelobt sei Jesus Christus !

Das lieblichste Getön
Ist in des Himmels Höhn,
Gelobt sei Jesus Christus !
Singt, Himmel, Erd, und Meer,
Und aller Engel Heer,
Gelobt sei Jesus Christus !

Bei Speise und bei Trank
Ist dies mein frommer Dank,
Gelobt sei Jesus Christus !
Es schalle weit und breit
In alle Ewigkeit,
Gelobt sei Jesus Christus !

Wo es schwebt, auch einmal schweben,
Und Dein sel'ges Lustrevier
Uns auch Himmelsnahrung geben !
Dann sind Noth und Tod Gewinn,
Nimmst Du auch das Liebste hin.

O hochbeglückte Seele, 1833¹.

Translated by Miss Jane BORTHWICK, 1853.

No. 357. How blessèd, from the bonds of sin.

O hochbeglückte Seele,
Die es für Freude hält,
Zu thun des Herrn Befehle
Aufrichtig, unverstellt.
Die sich recht dankbar kindlich
Ihm stets zu dienen freut,
Und herzlich und empfindlich
Den kleinsten Fehl bereut.

Du hängest Herz und Blicke
An den geliebten Herrn,
In keinem Augenblicke
Bist du Ihm fremd und fern.

Er braucht nicht laut zu mahnen,
 Du folgst Ihm froh und still,
 Die Liebe weiss zu ahnen,
 Was der Geliebte will.

Wie ist dein Loos erfreulich,
 Wie geht es dir so gut!
 Drum dienest du so treulich
 Dem Herrn mit Gut und Blut;
 In gut' und bösen Tagen,
 Gemach und Ungemach,
 In Freuden und in Plagen,
 Gehst du Ihm folgsam nach.

Wie flieht die Zeit von hinnen
 Im Dienst des Herrn so schnell,
 Und eh' wir uns besinnen
 Sind wir an Ort und Stell',
 Und dringen Glaubenskühner
 In's Vaterhaus hinein;
 Es soll ja auch der Diener
 Stets bei dem Herren seyn.

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS.

“An excellent little volume, full and accurate”—
The Guardian.

“A very complete handbook. The Authors are placed in chronological order: this is especially valuable, for it brings before the reader each different school of writers as it arose in the Church. Mr Moorsom complains that a large number of writers are not represented in Hymns A. & M. “Where are the Hymns of the Saxon and Celtic Churches?

Opinions of the Press.

Is Synesius to be the only representative of the Church of Africa? Where are the Hymns of Huss, Thomas à Kempis and the German Carols?" Mr Moorsom asks. We believe with him that there are jewels lying unknown which may be brought to light. We thank him on behalf of thousands of English Churchmen who through Hymns A. & M. have learnt to love their Catholic heritage"—Church Times.

"Every Hymnologist will welcome this book : to the adept it offers in small compass stores of information, while it provides the inexpert with the original words of ancient Greek and Latin Hymns. It will contribute towards the education of a popular improved taste"—Church Review.

"The Latin Hymns have been taken as far as possible from the ancient Church Service books of our country, from the Sarum, Hereford, York and Aberdeen Breviaries and Missals, and the Anglo-Saxon Hymnary. Scholars will be glad to have in an accessible form Hymns the beauty of which cannot be overstated"—Notes and Queries.

"A very interesting book. One which all who care about Hymns should possess. The arrangement is scientific and instructive.—Mr Moorsom gives brief accounts of the Authors and Translators according to their Church"—Spectator.

"We welcome the elaborate and complete volume of Mr Moorsom. He dwells emphatically on the necessity of a larger infusion of the Chants and Canons of many an Eastern Church. There is a great deal of interest in the book. It traces the Hymns to their original source in Liturgies, Missals and Breviaries"—John Bull.

"In the matter of Hymns we gratefully acknowledge the debt which we owe to Hymns A. & M. With all its faults we think Church people must love the book as Cowper loved England. It has helped to level up other Church Hymnals and also the collections of the Wesleyan and Congregational Bodies. In the elaborate little work The Historical Companion we have a volume which may be said to do for Hymns A. & M. what Mr Procter has done for the Prayer Book. With infinite pains Mr Moorsom has traced every Hymn to its source. His canons for selecting Hymns are lofty in principle, and with his general principles we are quite in agreement. The sources of the Church Hymn Book of Common Praise should be as widespread as are the Church's own branches. We want our taste improved and we need to have a higher standard set before us: and it is from such books as this that the minds of intelligent and educated readers can receive the needed instruction. It is eminently adapted as a present to any friend of scholarly tastes"—Oxford University Herald.

"We cannot praise too highly this admirably planned little volume. Each Author is tersely described and his religious position indicated. Mr Moorsom is a model Editor"—The Academy.

Opinions of the Press.

“An exceedingly useful Companion to a valuable book. The accounts of various Liturgies and Service-books in it are good, but the representation of the Greek and Latin texts is the chief thing, and one for which we are not able easily to be too grateful”—Saturday Review.

“This little work is of great historical and philological value”—Manchester Examiner.

“A handy, comely and exceedingly useful book”—Manchester Guardian.

“Many persons wish to possess the words of the Ancient Hymns which were sung by their forefathers in early British, Celtic, Saxon, and Norman Churches. In this book they will find that wish gratified”—Derbyshire Times.

“A very useful and interesting volume”—Church Quarterly Review.

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS.

“A most praiseworthy attempt to introduce a future Hymn-book for the English Church on the basis of an Anglo-Catholic Hymnal. Mr Moorsom gives us Hymns from the Greek, Syrian, East Syrian, Coptic and Armenian Churches; and the Western Church includes Hymns from the Church of Ireland, the British and Anglo-Saxon Churches, and various others from the Churches of Italy, France and Germany. It contains the germ of a grand revival in Hymnody”—Church Bells.

“The primitive Hymns of the Catholic Church are known only to few. Mr Moorsom urges that we in these islands ought to use the Hymns of our British forefathers in public worship”—The Guardian.

“A real addition to our Hymns. Many of the renderings are melodious”—The Churchwoman.

“We heartily commend this attempt to introduce some of the Hymns of other Churches to English Churchmen. Many of them have a stir, and ring, and some have pathos about them which make them much more attractive than the commonplaces of most English Hymnals. Others are scarcely less striking. We are most attracted by King Alfred's and the Dream of the Holy Rood of Cynewulf. Mr Griffith has fitted singable tunes to a number of the Hymns. That by Mr De Winton also is excellent"—Westminster Review.

"This book will be of great value in drawing attention to the wealth of Catholic Hymns hitherto almost unknown to English Churchmen. Mr Moorsom has added to the debt which all lovers of Hymns owe to him"—The Pilot.

"This exquisite little book will greatly please all students of Church Hymns. It breaks fresh ground, and there are few persons who after reading his Hymns from the Greek, Armenian, Syrian, Celtic and Anglo-Saxon service-books but will confess that hitherto they have been ignorant of many fine strains of praise. They will be gratified by these renderings. Some of the tunes are a decided acquisition"—The Carlisle Patriot.

"This is an interesting work. We are in cordial agreement with all that he says about the importance of the Hymns of the Eastern and Saxon and Celtic Churches. His renderings are worthy of the attention of all students. The historical notes are particularly valuable"—Glasgow Herald.

"This book makes accessible a wealth of devotional verse, to which all save a few scholars are strangers"—Yorkshire Post.

Opinions of the Press.

"Scholarly and devout, this book will both instruct students and give scope to singers who would range beyond Hymns A. & M."—The Scotsman.

"The writer looks forward to the day, when from a goodly store of Hymns culled from Catholic sources East and West there shall arise 'The Book of Common Praise,' which shall be a companion volume to The Book of Common Prayer. We welcome this volume. The Hymns here rendered have been in use from 300 to 1800 years. This constitutes a strong claim that they should be perpetuated among those who desire to walk in the faith of their Church forefathers"—Chatham Observer.

"This is the most charming volume, characterised throughout by grace of diction and poetic genius"—The Assyrian Quarterly.

"This book should be of considerable service in directing attention to a mass of fine Hymn literature far too little known in England"—Oxford Magazine.

"A notable group of fine utterances"—The Bookman.

"Mr Moorsom says 'The Catholic Church of Great and Greater Britain ought to give her hand to each and all of her Catholic sisters.' This sang-froid is delightful. He must know that the parading of English Protestants as English Catholics is a piece of make-believe which deceives no one"—The Roman Catholic Times.
